LOCAL NEWS.
The Hazel Green Jolly Club will give a grand party during the holidays.

Send your children to the Hazel Green Academy. They have them educated.

Rev. J. W. Kendrick will preach in town to night.

Play Day and the Circuit Court at this place.

When religion and righteousness are relaxed, ruin, rebellion and recklessness come away.

Miss Lucinda Kesh, daughter of Shelby Kesh, near Frenchburg, has been quite ill for some time.

Henry L. Goshaw, who has been at attending Central College, Danville, Ky., is expected home Sunday.

Creek Collins, a bull (hears) may be very useful, but they are rather unlight to Hazel Green visitors.

John D. White, not the crowd's hawk, is not carrying the mail between this place and Frenchburg.

Green Studier, formerly of this place, who has been located at Pochonts, Va., for some time, is now at Denton, Ky.

Judge John E. Cooper passed through Hazel Green Sunday last, en route to Jackson, where he is engaged in several suits.

Mrs. W. J. Wallace, of this place, has been suffering severely from rheumatism and pneumonia for several days, but is now better.

The meeting of the medical board of examiners will be at Campbell on Jan. 10th and 11th, instead of Jan. 10th and 11th as reported last week.

Pupils desiring to enter the Hazel Green Academy can pay their tuition with accepted orders on County Subscriptions of their respective counties.

Married—At the residence of the bride father, A. C. Pickett, on the 23rd inst., Mr. John Hall to Miss Amanda Pickett, Judge G. B. Swango officiating.

The following are the new postmaster in this district: P. P. Crawford, Can Branch, Breathitt; H. H. Patton, Whitesville; Maginn; H. G. Whit, Winston, Estill.

The Tenth Kentucky Congressional district has more of its Republican citizens in Government offices than any two districts together in the state have.

Ex-Governor P. H. Leslie, of Glasgow, has been appointed governor of Missouri. This Territory is the fourth in the interest of the people of this section in wealth is rapidly bringing it into prominence.

R. M. Hamilton, a blacksmith living at the Ford of Gray, in Morgan, is negotiating for a residence and shop at this place, for the purpose of locating. He is known among his customers as a first mechanic.

The Mt. Sterling Gazette is enjoying great prosperity. On the 5th of January it will be enlarged to a nine-column paper, making it one of the best weeklies in the State. We congratulate the Gazette on its success.

Dick Foreman, who killed Jerry Crum on the 1st day of January, 1886, at Mt. Sterling, had his final trial on the 23rd inst., and the jury being out less than an hour brought a verdict of 21 years in the penitentiary.

The directors of the Hazel Green Academy have employed as good teachers as can be found in the State, and it is the interest of the people of this section to encourage the enterprise. Send your children there and benefit yourselves, your children and your country.

Hazel Green Academy is advertised in this week's issue to open on January 31st with a competent corps of teachers, and every parent should see to it that their children enter with the year. This is fast getting to be the best school in the land.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises, for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment has for many years been the most successful remedy. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campbell.

A. Hoffman, of Mt. Sterling, and Mr. Pollock, of Newport, were here last Wednesday adjusting the losses in the recent fire, which was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. Mr. Pieratt was allowed $1,500 on his home and furniture, while the damages to Judge Swango's dwelling house are now being placed at $160.

The news reaches us as we go to press that a very disastrous explosion occurred at Cookeville, Tenn., in Knoxville, Tuesday, one day last week. About ten persons were seriously injured. One young man, Mr. J. H. McLean, was killed, and his body thrown about ten feet. The stump was amputated, but he has since died. Five others, it is thought are mortally wounded.

The elegant court house at Paris was damaged by fire last Friday morning to the extent of $5,000. The cause of the fire was a defective lamp. It had been burning for some time before it was discovered. Some of the records of the court were greatly damaged by water. The building cost about $100,000, and was insured for $50,000.

Sam J. Salver, recently teacher of the public school at this place, is now located at Morehead, the junior member of the law firm of Salver, Orser & Salver. The main branch of the firm is at Mt. Sterling, but Sam's friends will seek him out, and he may yet prove the main stem of the syndicate. At any rate his friends wish him an abundant success.

HAZEL GREEN, KY., Dec. 23d, 1886.
A. Hoffman, agent, Mt. Sterling.
My friend and partner, secured by you for $1,500, and destroyed by fire on December 31st, 1886, has been fully paid and settled to my entire satisfaction. Please accept my thanks for your promptness. I recommend any one having property to insure to take a policy in your agency.

Some fifteen or twenty students have already arranged to attend Hazel Green Academy, which opens on January 31st. It is well known that about 100 or more will be in attendance on that day. Prof. A. F. Kirk, recently a Professor of Bethany (Va.) College, will be principal, and his wife music teacher. Miss Schmitt, a local teacher of Lexington, will assist in the school room.

Judge G. B. Swango returned from Lexington Wednesday, where he had been in the interest of our school. He brought to our office a client bound volume of "Lands of the Bible," which was presented to the Academy Library by Mrs. Sally Logan. He also has the names of the sisters of the U.W.B. M. that the library would be the recipient of any valuable books at the hands of them and donors, through their solicitor.

The Hazel Green Academy opens its session on Monday, January 31st, with Prof. A. F. Kirk, recently of Bethany College, as principal, and Miss Schmitt, a local teacher of Lexington, will assist in the school room.

A Good Work.
We are gratified to see in THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD advertisements of select schools to be taught the next few months, both at Campbell and Hazel Green. We rejoice at every step forward in the development of the mountains. Without education railroads and telegraphs would be but mockery. Our resources of mind are richer than our resources of material wealth, and these we can develop ourselves. We do not need to depend upon foreign capital for this. If we had gone vigorously at this work of education years ago the wars that have plagued our mountain land never would have been, and today the mountain would be drawing our mountains of wealth to greedy markets and we would be enjoying rich harvests from our labor. We must prove ourselves worthy to be trusted before we can expect others to trust us. Capital must have protection before it will invest. It is afraid of educated citizens. After all we must be the architects of our own fortunes—Three Forks Enterprise.

We are gratified to see in THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD advertisements of select schools to be taught the next few months, both at Campbell and Hazel Green. We rejoice at every step forward in the development of the mountains. Without education railroads and telegraphs would be but mockery. Our resources of mind are richer than our resources of material wealth, and these we can develop ourselves. We do not need to depend upon foreign capital for this. If we had gone vigorously at this work of education years ago the wars that have plagued our mountain land never would have been, and today the mountain would be drawing our mountains of wealth to greedy markets and we would be enjoying rich harvests from our labor. We must prove ourselves worthy to be trusted before we can expect others to trust us. Capital must have protection before it will invest. It is afraid of educated citizens. After all we must be the architects of our own fortunes—Three Forks Enterprise.

A Good Work.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

One Dollar a Year, Advance in Advance.

SPENCER COOPER, P. M. EDITOR.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1886.

James H. Williams, of Frenchburg, is a candidate for the Legislature from this District, composed of the counties of Madison, Montgomery, Powell and Wolfe, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Our extreme desire to promote the interest of every citizen of the mountains, prompts us to speak again in reference to the great importance, and future moral and educational effects of Hazel Green Academy, which comes to the front the pioneer of educational enterprise in this section of the State, and will be the mover and leader in the bright dawn of the intellectual day which is ready to scatter its "God's blessing" over our mountain land.

Monday, January 3rd, 1887, will be a day which future generations will point with pride, thanks and joyful tears, a day which proclaimed illustrious and its scholars on the rostrum; a day on which education, morality, enterprise, happiness and prosperity commenced the march with measured stride to the goal which, when won, is a prize not shining the glittering jewels of the mine and the gold of Ophir. The jewel of the soul is intellect. Will you polish it? Not alone to the citizens of our town in the prize due to this, but noble, angelic women have come to the rescue with brain, heart and money, came at the time they were needed, came when the Waterloo of "Old for Blucher," went out wafted on the merry air. "God bless the "Blucher" of the C. W. R. M. The seed is sown, and the harvest shall be no one can doubt. With the board of trustees, with the C. W. R. M., with President Erb as chief instructor, more than ably seconded by Miss Schell, of Lexington, a first assistant teacher, we tip our beaver to the people and cordially invite you to send your children, and you, the young teachers, male and female, come and matriculate in the Hazel Green Academy on Monday, January 3rd.

At the request of President Cleveland, U. S. Marshal Green, of this State, has withdrawn his resignation tendered sometime since, and will fill out his term of office. It is believed that Marshal Green was induced to reconsider his resignation because he thought his deputy, Hugh Rogers, had not little charge for the position. On the other hand, it is claimed that President Cleveland had avowed his determination of appointing Rogers if Green persisted in vacating the position. He has it may, all who are cognizant of the competency of Capt. Green, no matter whose cause they espoused in event of the acceptance of his resignation, will feel that the State has lost nothing by reason of his resignation.

It seems that the editor of the Louisville Post can not be induced, unless he is abusing the people of Eastern Kentucky. Only a short time ago that paper contained a very abusive, false and slanderous article on the habit of the mountain people. The Louisville Post, the Correlation case and pours out his spleen on the people of Mt. Sterling, and says that Judge Reid was too noble a man to live in such a community. The Post should prepare Louisville for the millionaires before attempting to purify the mountains.

It is confidently asserted that the Kentucky Union railroad will be pushed to completion at once, now that all litigation over ownership has ceased, and THE HERALD wishes the projectors God speed in the much needed work. We would not appear selfish, but hope the company may build it through Wolfe county within the next five months. The undeveloped wealth now awaiting some sort of transportation, will supply the gluttony Standard Oil Company when they come to develop it.

Animals are often afflicted with a disease called the mange, the main disease to human beings is called the itch, and is highly contagious. It is a kind of scurf which Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, kills it thoroughly, and take Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campbell.

The Kentucky Times. The time is at hand when the people of Lexington must take some action in regard to the location of the Kentucky Union Railway. For the first time since its inception, we are satisfied that it will be built without much further delay. It will be a part of the Louisville and Nashville, which has been contracted for from Louisville to Lawrenceburg, and the question now is, shall it be extended from Lawrenceburg to Versailles, or via Versailles to Georgetown, to Paris and Jackson Station. Either of the last named routes will leave Lexington out in the cold. We believe that it is to the interest of the company to come to Lexington, and it certainly is Lexington's interest to have this important road, and we hope that the stupid blunder which was made in regard to the Richmond extension of the Kentucky Central will not be repeated in reference to the Kentucky Union. But to secure it our people must be up and doing. It will not come this way unless we extend a helping hand to the enterprise. Mercer, Boyle, Anderson, Bourbon and Clark have all shown a disposition to have the road, and "chip in" to the funds according to their ability.

Our Chamber of Commerce can do good work by taking this matter in hand and opening negotiations with the company for the purpose of locating their road via Lexington. If we get this road the distance to Louisville will be reduced to 60 miles, placing us in such close proximity with the largest commercial city in the State that business intercourse will rapidly increase between the two cities. It will have a marked influence on the future location of the State Capital. Its chief benefit to Lexington will be the opening up and development of the great coal fields of Eastern Kentucky with its wealth of iron and lumber. Our position is such that Lexington merchants would control the distributing trade of Eastern Kentucky. By all means take hold and let us have this road. It is vital to our future. Lexington Times.

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—We will on the 1st of January, 1887, begin our school in the F. & A. M. Hall in the town of Campton. We cordially solicit the patronage of all who wish to attend. Tuition—For advanced pupils, $1.50; intermediate $1.25; primary pupils $1.00 per month. The building is properly seated and ventilated for the business. We will properly devote our time and diligence for those who wish to patronize us. We remain, as ever, M. F. BROWN, JOHN J. TUTT.

A Rich Company. The Standard Oil Company, which has purchased the Kentucky Union railroad, is one of the richest corporations in the United States. Mr. Rockefeller, of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the great financiers of the world, is its president. This company has been worth $100,000,000. This company has been examining Eastern Kentucky for years, seeking for petroleum. They make no noise about it, but go very quietly at their work. The purchase of the road led through the very heart of this region indicates that they are satisfied with the results of their long and costly investigations. This is a factor in the resources of this country that has never been fully appreciated. What the outcome will be none can tell. We are not posted as to the scientific possibilities of oil in this region. Prof. Englehart, a learned professor of mining, of Columbia college, New York, when here about a year ago said: "You have everything here. I have traveled over the whole of the United States, and I had no idea that there was as rich a country as this in the West. No doubt there are many in the midst of possibilities that will dazzle the eyes of those who shall live to behold their realization."—Three Forks Enterprise.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.—Wishing to engage in other business, I desire to sell my Livery and Feed Stable, located in Hazel Green. The stable is large and commodious, being 30x60 feet, and is 30 feet front by 130 feet deep. The stable contains 16 large and roomy stalls, saddle and harness room, office, &c. The house is held by some day. A good location and liberal patronage. I am determined to sell, and now is your time to buy. Apply to THE HERALD.

An Owingerite special says: "Eastern capitalists have bought of Messrs. Lee & Allen a tract of about 1,000 acres of land in the mountains east of here. This land is simply a vast bed of iron ore, and it is the purpose of this company to at once begin mining and shipping the metal to furnaces in the eastern part of the State. For this purpose a branch railroad from the mines, to intersect the C. & O. road at Salt Lick Station, a distance of six miles, will be built as soon as the weather will permit. They also talk of building a ball furnace on Salt Creek, near this place."

You will have no use for spectacles if you use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve; it removes the film and restores the accommodation of the eye balls, subdues inflammation, cures all eye troubles, restores the vision, strengthens weak and failing eyes, cures a haze. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campbell.

Letcher County. A dispatch from Whitesburg says: "The winter Court for Letcher County, Judge H. C. Lilly presiding, has just closed. Among those convicted of crimes were Eli Hiram and Finley Collins, three brothers, and Henry Hiram, who were sentenced to the penitentiary for life for the murder of Halley Gibson, a boy only fifteen years of age. Samuel and Elijah Wright, brothers, were sentenced to two years imprisonment for killing William and Andrew Wright. They prayed and were granted an appeal. Wm. Wright, a brother of the accused, not tried, was with the two convicted, taken to the jail at Mt. Vernon. The grand jury returned 190 indictments, fifty of which charge the offense of bribery at election."

The President's Body Guards. There never has been a President whose every movement is so much and whose person is so well protected as the present occupant of the White House. The arrangements at the Executive Mansion have always been nearly perfect, but for some reason or other Mr. Cleveland has taken pains to improve them, and, of course, his own security as well. Thousands of strangers annually visit the White House without ever being brought in contact with the President. I am of the most rigid rules of the establishment is that no one shall be allowed up stairs who is not upon business connected with the Executive branch of the Government. Twice each week the President comes down into the East Room and shakes hands with the two or three hundred people who are always there to greet him. Even then he is not undisturbed. The big, pleasant faced gentleman who stands by his side is one of the best detectives in the country. The slightest movement on the part of the throng either excites him or the dozen or more milk-lounging but strongly built men who are scattered through the hall, fully as vigilant as he. At times there are guards inside as well as outside of the building, while the head of the Nation is in dramatics. The force of watchmen and detectives at the White House is largely augmented by special details from the police force of the city, and it is safe to say that no person of a suspicious character could get within a block of the mansion without being called upon for an explanation of his character and purpose. The White House is in telephonic connection with police headquarters as well as the barracks and the navy-yard. If it were necessary, probably a thousand armed and well-disciplined men could be made in its defense inside of an hour. With the present arrangements Presidents Cleveland's friends need not be anxious for his personal safety so long as he remains within the White House—Boston Traveler, Washington Letter.

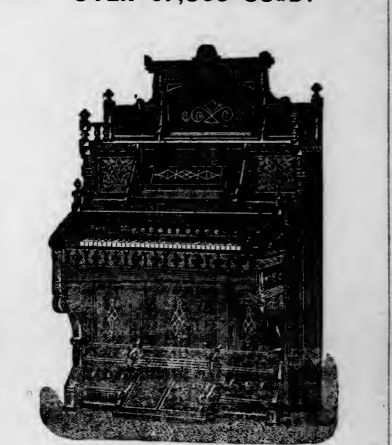

In cases of Fever and Ague, the blood is affected, though not so dangerous as it could be by the deathly exhalations from the malarial swamps and Fever Cures will eradicate the poison from the system; 50 cents a bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campbell.

The Christmas holidays are at hand and it behooves all good citizens to act with discretion and decorum.

Hazel Green Academy.

The directors of the above school take pleasure in answering to the public that the highly satisfactory arrangements have been made for the opening of the school on Monday, January 3rd, 1887. Three competent teachers have been employed whose qualifications are unsurpassed and their services secured for a term of years. In making this announcement we feel justified in asserting that the school will be an institution which will reflect credit on the community of the State and unsurpassed even by the more pretentious similar institutions of the large cities. Located in a favorable geographical section, healthy, moral, free from vicious influences, and with a strict oversight looking to the protection, comfort and mental training of the students, parents can rely upon their children being safe while under the care of the faculty and trustees. The attention of young men and ladies who expect to teach is specially called to the advantages to be gained in this school as a normal school. For terms of tuition and further information apply to W. O. Mize Hazel Green, Ky., or J. W. McGintire Lexington, Ky. Trustees—J. T. Day, G. B. Swango, W. O. Mize, Hazel Green, and Prof. J. W.
